FARLEY
TECH CONSULTING

Technology should make your operations easier, not harder.

Whether you're switching platforms, selecting a new system to improve efficiency with AI, or trying to make your current tools work the way they should, we help. We support property management companies across platforms like Vantaca, AppFolio, Yardi, QuickBooks, etc. We fix workflows, reporting gaps, and integration issues. If it touches your systems, data, or infrastructure, we can support it.

Our Services

Switching systems or consolidating entities?
We handle the data migration. When companies change platforms, the biggest problems usually come from messy data, not the software itself. Poor migrations lead to reporting issues, operational slowdowns, and manual workarounds. We support migrations and integrations across a range of operational and financial platforms, ask us about yours.

Not sure which platform or system is right for you?
We start by understanding how your team actually works, accounting, onboarding, reporting, collections, vendor management, and more. Then we help you select and implement a system that fits your operations, not the other way around. The result: real efficiency gains from automation and AI. Come talk to us about what's not working, we'll help you figure it out.
